Tickets for ACS Dance Now on Sale

Tickets for the ACS Formal, which takes place on Thursday, Feb. 13, are on sale today in the Book Exchange Room of the McGill Union from 9.45 to 2.00 p.m., sales being restricted to Arts, Commerce, and Science students only.

For five dollars a couple the committee is bringing Stan Patton's Orchestra from Ontario, and will also provide a supper, as well as other attractions.

STAN PATTON

Over half the tickets have been disposed of to date, and the committee urges all students who wish to attend the dance to obtain their tickets now or else they are liable to be disappointed.

Dawson students in Arts and Science can get their passes at the Canteen this afternoon during regular canteen hours, while Commerce students will get theirs from Andre Bedard. A block of tickets has also been made available to Law students and may be obtained from Conrad Shatner.

Table reservations will be made through Beryl Reid who will be at a special booth in the Union on Wednesdays from 12.30 to 3.30 to take care of all arrangements. Those unable to be present at these times may contact her at DE. 9251 on Tuesday afternoon between 3.30 and 4.30.

STUDENT COUNSELLORS' OFFICE

In the absence of Mr. C. M. McDougall, Students' Counsellor, Mr. E. C. Knowles will interview student veterans on Tuesday and Thursday of this week. (February 4th and 6th), Room 15, Arts Building. Hours: 9.45-12.30, 2.00-5.00. Through the week the office will remain open, as usual, for appointments, etc.

To Feature Foeger Films On Skiing

On Tuesday, February 4 at 5 p.m. in Room 250 the Film Society and the MOC will jointly present Luggi Foeger and three films of his own in sound and natural color.

Luggi Foeger is well known in McGill sporting circles as the popular instructor of the McGill Ski Team. He is not so well known as a photographer but, his ability as an artist with the camera will be appreciated by those who see these films. With the aid of fellow ski instructors, the first film was made last spring amid the scenic beauty of the Canadian Rockies. The resulting film is not only a good exposition of skiing technique, but is as well a vivid testimony to the beauty of the scenery as a background to the fluid movement of the skiers.

The other two films to be shown were made under similar conditions. One was made in the same country while the producer was on a mountain climb and the other was filmed in colorful Yosemite.

Mr. Foeger will be present at the showing and will probably give a brief talk at the end of the program.

C. H. Millard Will Review Labour Future

"Labours Place in Canada's Future" will be the title of an address to be given by C. H. Millard, National Director of the Steelworkers' Union at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Union Ballroom. The open meeting is sponsored by the McGill CCF Club in accordance with its policy of bringing prominent Canadians into contact with students.

Mr. Millard in addition to being director of the steelworkers is a member of the National Council of the Canadian Congress of Labour which is the largest trade union body in Canada. Last year as Canadian delegate to the World Trade Union Conference held in London he expressed the views of the Canadian Labour movement on world labour organization and later rose to further prominence in the Canadian Labour scene by his testimony before the Parliamentary Committee which investigated the steel strike which Mr. Millard led. The address is expected to review the Union's attitude during last summer's steel strike, and to deal with Canadian Labour's current and future demands. Mr. Millard advises that he will be quite willing to answer any questions addressed to him on the Union's activities and therefore ample time will be set aside for the question period.

Dawson to Revise Rink Auditorium Drive

For the benefit of students who have just entered the University the Rink-Auditorium Campaign will be revised on the Dawson campus it was revealed by canvassing committee officials. The new appeal will be headed by Boyd Whitall, who led all canvassers in the last drive. In a statement to the Daily, Whitall stated, "The last campaign ran $800 short of the $1,800 objective. We are now appealing to new entrants and those who couldn't contribute last term to make up the deficit. The campaign will begin this week and cheques will be accepted."

Double Debate To Be Held With U. of T.

McGill debaters John Switzman, John Monk, Bill Tetley, and Leonard Walshman are preparing the Topic, "Resolved that Scientists should refuse work on projects which they are not allowed to discuss freely" for the forthcoming debate with Toronto on Thursday, February 6.

Toronto, defeated at home and away last fall by McGill, is preparing strong teams in the hope of avenging her defeats.

John Switzman, who will travel with John Monk to Toronto, is well-known in McGill political circles. Mr. Monk is new to McGill but he is an experienced speaker and won an impressive victory in the Montreal Debating League against Loyola. Bill Tetley, the chairman of the Arts and Science Debating Society, has won twice in local debates while Leonard Walshman debated on the Bishop's College I.U.D.L. team last year. Tetley and Walshman will represent McGill at home on Thursday, February 6, at 8 p.m. in the ballroom.

Dawson Holds Successful Political Meet

The turnout at the Political Forum at Dawson Thursday night exceeded all expectations and a very successful meeting was held. So far one political club, the Progressive Conservative Club, has formed and two, the C.C.F. Club and the L.P.P. Club, are in the process of formation. These three political groups presented main speakers who outlined their club's viewpoints on the subject, "Canada's Foreign Policy".

C. F. Dionne, of the L.P.P. Club, was the Speaker for the evening. Z. E. Weiss spoke on behalf of the L.P.P., C. J. Bowie-Reed on behalf of the Progressive Conservatives, and A. Segall on behalf of the C.C.F. There was no Liberal speaker for the main eight minute speeches; however, D. C. Frazer spoke on their behalf during the five minute rebuttal speeches.

An executive meeting of the Political Forum has been called for Thursday, 6.00 p.m., Room 20, Dawson Hall. The following subjects (Continued on Page 4)

Dancer and Composer

Besides appearing in the chorus line of the RED AND WHITE REVUE, and doing tap routines with Dick Hunter and Jerry MacKinnon, Molra Wedderspoon also appears in an original song and dance skit which she composed herself. Tickets for the Revue are on sale in the lobby of the McGill Union. Duffin Photos

Cast Preparing For Revue First Night

The Union Ballroom echoed to the rhythm of music, songs and dancing feet this weekend, as the Red and White Revue was put through its paces in preparation for tomorrow's opening night at Moyse Hall.

The full seventeen piece orchestra was on hand, and the whole show was rehearsed with the music. An excellent Calypso number was also put on by a group of West Indian students, and drew a good round of applause from the rest of the cast after they had played and sung a piece called "Junior Commando".

Under the direction of D'Arcy Shea, who is in charge of all music for the show, the orchestra went through an intensive four-hour rehearsal, and played the whole score.

The chorus line put finishing touches on their routines under the whip hand of Dick Hunter, the Choreographer, and a great improvement was noted in their dancing by people who saw their first rehearsal.

Last minute details in the costuming are being completed on the double, with scissors, sewing machines, and needles working overtime. Della Dwayne of the chorus line is coaching the girls in their needlework, and all costumes are being whipped together by the girls in the line themselves under her expert eye. Some pretty fetching outfits were seen in a sneak preview by The Daily.

There are still some tickets available for all nights, with the opening performance, Tuesday, and the Saturday matinee having the most seats available. Friday night is "Dawson Night", and St. Johns students can get their tickets from Jack Wale, Keith Wedderspoon and Bob Bower. Students on the Montreal campus can obtain their seats from the ticket office in the lobby of the McGill Union.

Takes a Dim View

Dawson Survives Frost, Sleet, Rain, Succumbs to Darkness

The falling of ice-laden elm branches on direct power lines between St. Johns and Dawson College Friday morning, was responsible for an eleven hour electrical supply shut off that affected such vital college units as the dining and maintenance divisions, besides giving weekenders an extra day for home voyages. This event culminated one of the oddest displays of January weather in years, that saw first frost, then sleet and rain ravage the St. Johns area.

The short-circuiting of power lines occurred at 1.20 a.m., and eleven hours later twenty-four Southern Canada Power Company workers restored the flow of electricity, with the lights blazing on at 12.23 p.m.

"Our maintenance workmen acquitted themselves admirably", it was declared by W. A. Johnston, Assistant Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, as he outlined the various ways in which his department was affected by this event. All but air heating units went out of operation with the power shutoff, but emergency wood heating units were used wherever possible. Shivering pajama-clad Dawsonites found a copious hot water supply however in washrooms, and the supply of aqua pura was not in the least affected, with more expected.

Another phase of student life was affected when students caught sight of the following notice on the Administration bulletin board, to the effect that "All lectures scheduled for Friday, 31st January, 1947, have been cancelled due to power failure." Checking with the gatehouse in early afternoon, it was

Many of the Pre-Meds had come in from Dawson for this tour, and the Society has announced its intention of making as many as possible of its future functions available to Dawsonites. (Continued on Page 4)

Red Cagers Trim Varsity 39-24, Pucksters Lose 4-1 In Intercollegiate Activity

Flick Davidon Shines Over Varsity Five

By PERC TANNENBAUM
(Daily Staff Writer)

You have to hand it to Lou Davidon. He certainly developed a swell Zone Defence for the Redmen. It paid off Saturday night before 3,000 cheering onlookers as the McGill cagers stopped the visiting Varsity squad cold in a decisive 39-24 victory.

And while we're handing out laurels, there is a well-deserved acknowledgement coming to George Davidon. George had a little difficulty finding the range in the initial stages of the game, but after he clicked on a couple of long ones there was no stopping him.

"GADFLY" GEORGE
Earlier this semester, McGill faithful saw Murray Hayes make a sensational run on the gridiron. Well, "Flick" duplicated this feat on Saturday on the Currie floor. He picked up a pass deep in his own zone, weaved his way through a bewildered Blue team at a rapid gait, culminating the dash with a terrific hook shot. The Varsity boys certainly looked pathetic on that one.

The match itself was not too spectacular from a spectator's point of view. Both teams exhibited a very tight defence, slowing the game up considerably. The vaunted fast breaks, which were supposed to be the feature of each crew, occurred few and far between. Indeed, the Toronto squad were forced to do most of their shooting from quite a way out, and proved to be woefully weak in that department.

RECORD:
It may be that something of a record was established in the second half, when the Redmen held the losers to a measly 8 points. The "Big Bertha" of the Varsity roster were held practically scoreless. Harry Mayzell, high scorer for the Blues the night before, got himself a big goose-egg, while Wally Zeaton, although he handled the ball in his usual crowd-pleasing manner, was (Continued on Page Four)

Campaign at Dalhousie For New Buildings

Halifax, February 1. — (CUP)—Dalhousie University students will be campaigning for $3,000,000 to finance a new Men's Residence and a new Arts Building, in May, Dr. H. L. Scammell, who is secretary of the campaign committee, stated that the purpose of the drive is twofold, first to provide funds for the two new buildings and secondly to provide endowment for the upkeep of the two new additions to Dalhousie's campus.

The campaign will be centered in Halifax, and will radiate over the Maritime Provinces, Newfoundland and eventually the larger cities of Canada and the U.S.

IRC To Hear Fieldhouse On Big Three

Professor Fieldhouse, Kingsford Professor of History, will address the International Relations Club, to night, at 8 o'clock in the McGill Union. He will talk on "The Big Three and Europe".

An authority on modern European history, Professor Fieldhouse will trace the chain of developments preceding our era, through the World War, and to the present, immediate post-war period. He will also outline the reasons for the Big Three Alliance, their differences and achievements. Professor Fieldhouse will then examine their relationship in the light of the present day situation, the United Nations Organization and world problems in general. The role of the smaller countries as compared to that of the Big Three will also be described.

It is pointed out that all students, whether or not belonging to the I.R.C., are cordially invited to attend. It will be remembered that the International Relations Club has already featured, in its inaugural meeting, Dr. A. Roper, Secretary General of the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization. Only two weeks ago, the I.R.C. sponsored, in conjunction with the Political Economy Sociological and History Clubs, the symposium on "The Causes of War", featuring Professors Higgins, Fieldhouse, Stern, and Laviolette with Prof. Mallory as moderator. This is therefore the third meeting of a series planned by the Club, which so far have received the close attention of the student body.

Politics Debate Will Feature CCF, LPP's

Tonight at 8 p.m. the Union Ballroom will be the scene of the first political open forum to be held at McGill in recent years, when representatives of the campus L.P.P. and C.C.F. Clubs will meet to present their views on the resolution: "Resolved that the dictatorship of the proletariat is necessary in order to achieve socialism." The meeting will open as a debate, and will continue as a public forum when the floor is made available to members of the audience for asking questions.

Speaking for the L.P.P. Club will be John Switzman and Norman Neremberg, while the C.C.F. attitude will be expounded by John Wolfe and Michael Oliver. Each of these men will make an opening speech of seven minutes, and the first speaker will be allowed three minutes for rebuttal; after this, the formal debate, is concluded, there will be a short period during which the contestants will address questions to each other relating to points brought up in their speeches. Finally, the open forum proper will get under way, and members of the audience will be asked to question the political club representatives on any relevant issue. Questions will be limited to one minute, and the answers to three (Continued on Page 4)

3 Injuries Sustained By Puck Squad

By BERNIE DUFRESNE

Toronto, February 2.—(Special to The Daily)—Last Friday night was the bluest night for the McGill Redmen this year as they went down to defeat before the Toronto Varsity Blues 4-1, on the Blues' home freeze. In the roughest, toughest, slam-bang game that the Reds have played this season.

Ace Bailey's Boys offered Dave Campbell's crew the strongest opposition they have had to face in the current schedule. The Blues were more than at home on their own ice did everything right, and the cheering crowd of 3,500 Varsity fans gave them ample vocal support.

Our own side seemed ill at ease on the small ice of Varsity Arena, their passing plays were inaccurate and even wild at times. They didn't lack that driving urge to win though. They kept trying until the final whistle as evidenced by the fact that Ward Pitfield lost five teeth in a melee midway through the third period and Bob Brodick snapped his shoulder in the last minute of play while trying to cut between two Toronto defencemen.

The game opened up quickly and the furious pace was kept up till the end. For the first ten minutes the Redmen dominated the play as they made sortie after sortie into the Blues' zone. Then all of a sudden, Varsity's pride and joy opened up and it was a shoo-in after that for them. The forward lines were well coordinated as Harry Boyd and Cec Turcott were ever threatening while Ed Kryzanowski was a pillar of strength at the blue line.

Before 40 seconds of the first period had elapsed Joe Pettit had scored on a fast play engineered by Jim Atkinson and Bob Brodick. Then with Pitfield in the cooler Turcott made things even with the help of Boyd.

In the second frame the Blues continued to press hard and the policy paid off as they rapped home two quick goals, to put the Varsity squad in a lead that was never threatened. Boyd tilted the red light first then Don Simpson bulged the nets. The third frame saw Bill Lawler beat Jack Gelleneau on relays from Boyd and Johnson.

McGill: Goal, Gelineau; defence, Brodick, Heron; centre, Pettit, wings, Pitfield, Atkinson; subs, T. Hale, G. Hale, Spiller, Belgier, Miller, Gosselin, Currie, Brough, Anderson.

Toronto: Goal, Ball; defence, Kry-

Marx Praised By Ryerson

"Only under Socialism will the exploitation of the majority of Canadians by a minority of selfish monopolists be ended," so said Mr. Stanley Ryerson, National Educational Director of the Labor Progressive Party, at an open meeting of the McGill L.P.P. club on Friday. His topic was "One Hundred Years of Marxism."

Mr. Ryerson then pointed out that mankind will forever be indebted to Karl Marx for applying science to the study of social change. It proved that no society is immortal, but rather, each has a beginning and an end. Similarly, Mr. Ryerson went on, it proved that the working class, which came into existence with the birth of the factory system, was destined to overthrow the capitalist state and replace it with a worker's state, a socialist state. This new state will be one where those who produce the wealth of the country either by hand or by brain, will be permitted to share in that production, Mr. Ryerson concluded.

The meeting ended with a discussion period.

Shown above are members of the Players Club rehearsing for "Command Performance", the one-act play which is to be presented this afternoon at 5 p.m., in the Union Ballroom.

No Disagreement Here!

The period of peace so recently begun has shown us too well that the number of points on which there can be fairly unanimous agreement is small indeed. Yet, we are inclined to pay no more than lip service to one of the most important national problems today — the problem of national health on which there is complete unanimity. We have seen that national and international unity can become fact during conditions of great distress — but once these periods are over, there is a return to the procrastination and disinterested which has become too much a part of our national state of mind. The question of health has for a long time been subject to such procrastination and indifference both by the Federal and Provincial governments and by the people of Canada themselves. Yet we have seen every day accounts of the most astounding advances in medical science — advances which make available to every man a state of well-being undreamed of even 20 years ago. Nevertheless, such advances are going unused because of a lackadaisical attitude and because of vague superstitions.

The Health League of Canada has declared this week "Health Week" — a period in which an attempt will be made to educate the citizen towards an appreciation of the opportunities offered him and his family to improve their physical state, and by such individual improvement, the national health state. Common sense, that hypothetical bodily faculty with which every normal being is supposedly endowed, should demonstrate to the average man the value of good health to his earning power and his happiness. This same property should indicate to governments and legislators the importance to the community and to the country of an optimum national health condition.

Still health goes unnoticed until the first chink in the armor appears. But must we wait until that time? Must we continue to allow the uneducated and disinterested to endanger the citizen who is cautious? Obviously not — and there is much we can do. We can expect some effort via legislation. But the main effort must come from individuals in personal behaviour. Certainly we can expect students to appreciate this most important problem. But how students can perform a greater function is by a spread of information easily available to them. There are at the present time ways to combat a great number of diseases. Many of these diseases are preventable by the execution of simple hygienic precautions. Health Week can serve to point out some of these precautions and other elementary rules of good health. But it works best if it serves to make every individual appreciative of the importance of health and the positive action needed to ensure it. — A.K.

Thursday, February 6. — Salvatore Baccaloni the famous basso and comedian of the Metropolitan opera, in his recital at His Majesty's Theatre next Thursday evening, will present principal arias from the operatic parts in which he has won some of his greatest successes. The list will include: —

"Son Imbroglione," as "Uberto in 'La serva padrona' (Pergolesi); "Udite, O rustici," as "Dulcamara in 'L'elisir d'amore' (Donizetti); "Solche hergelaufne Laffen" and "Ha, wie will ich triumphieren," as "Osmin in 'The Seraglio' (Mozart); "Quand' ero paggio," as "Falstaff in 'Falstaff (Verdi); "Madamina," as Leporello in "Don Giovanni" (Mozart); "The Siege of Kazan," as Varlaam in "Boris Godunoff" (Moussorgsky); Two love serenades: "Nina" (Tanara), and "Serenata gelata" (Buzzi-Peccia); "A pieta," as Leporello in "Don Giovanni" (Mozart).

The Russian violinist, Raya Garboumsova, a pupil of Casals, will play again for the Ladies' Morning Musical.

Monday, February 10. — Tallulah Bankhead, in Jean Cocteau's new play "The Eagle Has Two Heads," at His Majesty's for a week. Also in the cast: Helmut Dantine, Clarence Derwent, Eleanor Wilson.

Friday, February 7. — Portia White, the Haligonian contralto, is to give a recital at His Majesty's Theatre under arrangements made by the Canadian West Indian Progressive Student Centre, next Friday evening.

Though Miss White's fame has spread all over the North American continent, she has been heard only once before in Montreal, when she sang in aid of the Committee on Refugees just two years ago. Praises of the beauty of her voice, of her expressive use of it and of her musical intelligence come from the critics of many cities in the United States and Canada.

Thursday, February 13. — Nestor Chayres, Mexican tenor will give a recital at the Plateau Hall.

Saturday, February 15. — Mary Munn, Montreal pianist, who has been living in British Columbia, and has not been heard here for a considerable time, is to give a recital at the Tudor Hall.

COMING

Lotte Lehmann, the great singer whose recital at His Majesty's Theatre was a high light of last year's music in Montreal will sing here again, also at His Majesty's, on Monday, February 24th.

EXCELLENT RECITAL

Witold Malcuzyński, in his Thursday concert at the Currie gym, proved to the Montreal audience that he not only is one of the best interpreters of Chopin, but in addition an effective interpreter of other composers.

Mr. Malcuzyński's reputation as a Chopin pianist has grown rapidly since he first came to Montreal three years ago. Thursday evening, he demonstrated a knowledge of Liszt and Bach, playing the Sonata in B Minor by the former and the Bach Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue. The sonata was played with feeling and a sureness of touch, with a contrast of control and deep feeling. Although the Bach fantasy was begun a little lusciously for a classical composer, the fugue was excellently played in strict classical style.

The latter half of the programme was begun with a trio of mazurkas and variations on a theme, by Syzmannowski, one of the lesser known Polish composers of whose works Mr. Malcuzyński is very fond. The variations were especially well-handled.

The Chopin compositions were obviously what the audience was there to hear. With more control than was evidenced in the artist's performance last summer, he played three études, including the Black Key Study, the Grand Valse Brillant and the Scherzo in C sharp minor, with the conspicuous avoidance of lushness which is evident in all his Chopin interpretations. The waltz was notably quieter than in his last performance of it here, in his summer concert and was excellently performed as was the Scherzo. We hope to hear Mr. Malcuzyński play in Montreal again soon. — E. B.

LETTER FORUM

Mr. Editor—The undersigned feel that certain facts should be brought to the attention of the student body. The L.P.P. Club recently formed by a group of Dawson students was refused recognition by the Dawson Students Council. At first no explanation was given. Later at a Council meeting a verbal explanation was given to the effect that the Council feels that the formation of an L.P.P. Club on the campus would be detrimental to the general welfare of the student body.

We consider this action completely inexplicable and outrageous for the following reasons:

(1) The Council has already recognized the Political Forum, whose purpose is to sponsor the formation of political clubs on the campus.

(2) This same Students' Council has already granted recognition to the Progressive Conservative Club, which has a constitution similar to the L.P.P. Club.

(3) It will be recalled by all Dawson students that the present Council when running for election pledged their support in fostering the formation of students' clubs.

(4) Their refusal sets a very dangerous precedent, since it is based on the grounds that they disagree with the political views of those who wish to establish a particular political club. This means that at any time if the Council so desires it can ban any political club with whose views it does not agree.

When the L.P.P. Club submitted its constitution to the Council, the Council members were not asked to join the L.P.P. Club, but our Club was merely following the constitution which applies to all Dawson students.

We maintain that the Students Council has no constitutional or moral right to disallow the existence of any one political club. It should be pointed out that the L.P.P. is a legal national party—a fact which the Dawson Students Council chose either to ignore, or were ignorant of—runs and elects candidates to public office as does every other political party.

The L.P.P. is allotted free time by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as is every other political party. From that point of view it is no more than the right of every Dawson student to have the opportunity, if he or she so desires, to become acquainted with the policy of the Labour-Progressive Party. This can only come about through an L.P.P. Club.

We maintain that Dawson students are mature enough and sensible enough to decide for themselves if they are likely to be endangered (?) by the existence of an L.P.P. Club.

Finally we wish to point out that the members of the L.P.P. Club are all veterans of the last war, of voting age, and therefore responsible citizens. They feel that they did not fight to defeat Hitlerism to come back and be denied their democratic rights to voice their political views in organized and democratic discussion.

Very recently students have demonstrated their feelings regarding the violation of civil liberties, in the Roncarelli case. We trust that such a demonstration will not be necessary in a case on our own university.

Yours very truly,
C. F. DIONNE, Chairman; L. FEINMAN, Vice-Chairman; R. B. TUDOR, Publicity Director; Dawson College Labor, Progressive Club

The Movies

THE RETURN OF MONTE CRISTO

Moviegoers who are passionately attached to the stories of Alexander Dumas will probably feel insulted by "The Return of Monte Cristo," at the Princess this week. Those who don't like Dumas won't like it anyway. But if you like an excuse for a costume piece (France, 1868), with jewels, titles, Devil's Island escapes, torture, disguises, impersonations of Louis Napoleon, and the eventual triumph of love and justice, this is good entertainment. I do. There was only one, important accessory omitted. Apparently Louis Hayward, "the hero," can't fence, and Columbia Pictures was reduced to distinctly unrealistic fisticuffs. Barbara Britton is adequately pretty, but watch for George Macready. He's one of the best actors to be seen in a long time, and, one would think, far too good for "B" pictures. The cast, with the exception of Mr. Macready, acted more like twentieth century Hollywoodians in disguise than reasonable facsimiles of nineteenth century Frenchmen, but if one can overcome one's resistance to these minor anachronisms...

The Daily Meets:
Professor Baudoin

By May Mesnet

It was a great pleasure to interview Professor Baudoin. When he greets you, he puts you completely at ease with his affability and keen sense of humor. He arrived in Montreal last September to take his position as Professor of Law at McGill and he expects to be here for five years.

Born in Paris, he attended the Lycee Maignan and the Lycee Louis le Grand, escaping sometimes, as he said laughingly, to relax in the Luxembourg Gardens. He passed his "baccalaureat" in 1917, interested in arts and foreign languages. He then took a "licence" in law and passed his examinations brilliantly, taking honours in civil law in each of the three years of his course. Later he received his "doctorat" in law.

At the same time, he completed his military service as a "chasseur Alpin" and as a sking instructor. We asked him if he had enjoyed the skiing here; but he has not yet had time to try the Laurentian slopes. Appointed to Geneva as assistant director to the International Broadcasting Union, he also taught commercial law in French and German at the university. He passed value is accentuated by the fact that it shares a bill with a cast that couldn't have been good even if it had followed Anna Sewall's story. The feature, "Black Beauty," boasts two horses, who turn in creditable performances, and an inferior supporting cast of assorted people.

AT THE CAPITOL

This week we have another vet's rehabilitation picture "Nobody Lives Forever". This time we have an ex-racketeer who returns to his home and girl only to find she has taken up housekeeping for someone else during his stay overseas. He gives her and her boy friend a good going over and leaves town for the west. (Everybody is going west.) Here he decides to spend a short time recuperating but ends up trying to swindle a rich widow out of her millions.

Before long however, he gets a twinge of conscience, or is it love, and decides to call the whole thing off. This precipitates the movie (literally) and in rapid succession we have a kidnapping, shooting and a couple of corpses. By the way this is all very exciting. The

C.A.S.A. All Stars Drowned by McGill Swimmers 53-21

Athans and Christie Aid In Red Victory Over Visiting Crew

The McGill swimmers are still basking in the glory of their weekend activities as they drowned the C.A.S.A. All Stars in the NDG Pool last Saturday night by 53-21 victory.

This was another in a series of "prep" meets which Coach Vic Curran has arranged in order to give his boys enough competitive experience to see them through the all-important Intercollegiate Meet which takes place in Montreal on February 22.

ATHANS TOPS
With such men as Athans to uphold the diving end of things, and Fullerton, Christie, Quayle and Errington to do the actual swimming, the all-out efforts of C.A.S.A.'s Mingay and West were pretty much in vain. As a matter of fact the whole event was quite a landslide, as the unreasonable score intimidated.

This was the swimmers' second win of the season, having previously won out over the YMCA, and having lost out to the powerful American Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy. They next leave town to tackle Sampson College, on the 7th and this meet coupled with the one on the 15th against Amherst in Montreal should prove to be ample training for the McGillians to cop top honours in the Intercollegiate Meet.

Floor Hockey Finals Continue Out at Dawson

Sparked by Miro Bozich's brilliant 4-goal performance, the Moose Boys smothered Bearsats under a 7-1 score in Dawson's Floor Hockey playoffs last Thursday night.

In a stunning reversal of form, Moose Boys poured into the powerful Frenchmen from the opening whistle. Bozich netted two goals in the opening session and added another in the second before Gerard Gosselin saved Bearsats from a whitewashing. Johnny Phlaine and Bob Prescho increased the Moose Boys' lead to 5-1, and Prescho and Bozich tallied two more in the final period.

SURPRISE

The 7-1 setback caught Bearsats by surprise; they had won the first game of the 2-of-3 semi-finals on Tuesday night 8-2, and expected to walk away with the series on Thursday. But this time they lacked the smooth passing and aggressiveness of the previous encounter. In addition to that, they found Herb Young too great an obstacle in Moose Boys' goal.

Fetherstonhaugh Stars In Fencing Tourney

The finals of the Intersection Fencing Tournament held on Thursday evening was a closely contested and most exciting match. Mary Lee Fetherstonhaugh was runner-up closely followed by Rose Foyle and Sheila Parnell. Spectators saw some brilliant attacking interspersed with smart parrying. Excitement was tense as the last few bouts were fought and the winner managed to edge out her opponents.

Mary Lee, Rose, and Sheila will be worth watching when they carry the colours of the Coed section of the McGill Fencing Club in the Provincial Novice Tournament being held this evening at the Currie Gymnasium. In this Tournament they will come up against the most promising newcomers gathered from all over the Province.

McGill Squashmen Defeat MIT As Gymnasts Cancel Competition

The Athletics Night Squash feature last Saturday Night saw the McGill lads smash their opponents from MIT in the form of a 4-1 shellacking. At the same time behind the west end partitions of the main gym, the scheduled Gymnastics meet between the Redmen and the visiting Trinity College School was declared an exhibition due to the fact that the visitors were unable to perform on the side horse and the rings events.

SECOND WIN
The American visitors from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology faded in their attempt to even the score with the Redmen who had previously defeated them by a score of 5-0 on the former's home grounds. The McGill Squashmen showed overwhelming power as they took 14 out of the 20 played games. Dave Culver took Scherer of MIT in a streak of matches, 3-0. Farlinger defeated his visiting opponent, Labor in the same incurious manner, 3-0.

In the third match of the evening, the McGill squashmen once again showed no respect for Canadian hospitality, as Bob Colquhoun trimmed Konreich 3-1. It was in the first game of this set, the MIT representative notched his victory but, Colquhoun came right back to take the next three games in succession.

MIT CLOSE
The MIT squad came close in the next match of the evening, but Redman Guy MacFarlane finally took over with a 3-2 win from Tom Cummings of the visiting team. It was the last set of the night's proceedings which turned out to be the first win for the visiting crew, and what's more, perhaps the biggest surprise of the evening.

In the aforementioned set, Pete Landry, of McGill, present holder of the Provincial Singles Squash Championship, didn't come through as predicted by the wisecracks; so that the resulting score was 3-2 in favor of Stew Brauns of MIT. After having played four games to a two to two draw, the driving fighters were both determined to take the next game and the match. The tilt was played to a 17-16 count in favor of Brauns, and so the upset of the night had been scored in the realm of squash.

Fast Carabins, BlueHoopsters Defeat Queen's

It was Harry Mayzell all the way on Friday night as he sparked his Varsity Blues to a decisive 44-26 victory over the unlucky Gaels, in the Currie Memorial Gymnasium at Kingston.

The feature of the game was the fast breaks, the tight zone that the Torontonians kept, which the Queensmen couldn't penetrate for either a close shot or a set-up shot, and the expert pattern passes, "hot-potato" style which kept the Tricolour confused throughout.

TERRIFIC PLAY
Mayzell started his remarkable playing in the very beginning of the game, scoring six of his fourteen points in the first 15 minutes of the game.

Next high scorer was Colin Cranham, of Varsity, with seven points to his credit. Top Queen performer was Mac Niven with six points.

Yessiree, the Gaels sure had an "off" weekend, not only losing a basketball game but a hockey game as well. In this field the Ramping Carabins over the hill were the lucky one sneaking out a close 2-1 victory.

McGill Wins Boxing Tourney In Sports Festivities Saturday

By BERNARD COOPER
(Daily Staff Writer)

McGill's master leather slingers clocked out a close 4-3 decision in bouts on Saturday night to send the AAU all-stars home a slightly battered bunch. The boys lambasted each other before a packed house, and the roars of delight from the "delicately minded" females present testified to the blood-thirstiness of modern society. The AAU scales were apparently reading a wee bit high, since most of their boys weighed in considerably over what they had claimed to carry. The result was a wholesale reorganization of bouts to attempt to make a good match in every fight.

LEE OUTSCORED

The first bout saw 135 pound all-star Miller outpoint newcomer Doug Lee of McGill. Miller made good use of more ring experience and polish together with a right hook to bother Lee from the decision. The next 135 pound contest saw Chris Cook of McGill even the score as Leo Landreville of St. Agnes had difficulty in remaining in a vertical position during the last round. Cook made quite an impression in this his first fight against a more experienced opponent, and carried the fight the entire way. Landreville waited for the breaks, but didn't get them. The other lightweight battle saw cagy and powerful Frank McKeown of 79 Battery outpoint Grif Marshall of McGill. McKeown showed more ring-wisdom, and was close to the weight limit, but Marshall impressed the crowd by his aggressiveness and smooth defence work.

HENEY VICTORIOUS

In the 140 pound division, Vince Connolly of Iverley entered the ring against John Heney of Coach Phillips' crew, and looked as if he wished he hadn't. This was the only fight of the evening, where the crux of the battle seemed to be if one boxer would catch the other. Heney showed smooth style as he chased Connolly for 2 rounds, and then Connolly decided he should try his powerful right. The result was a bit of boxing during round 3, but the issue was never in doubt.

BOUT CANCELLED

The feature bout of the evening between Milt Orr and Joe McNab was cancelled, and since Orr had the flu then the other 140 pound bout was presented. This was by far the nicest bout of the evening, with the boys out to box. Tommy Guindon of Verdun met Johnny Rogers of McGill, and both boys knew their way around the ring. Rogers featured a snake-like left jab which continually tattooed Guindon's face, and had his nose bleeding in the first round. The fight was clean, although Guindon utilized the clinches to jab, and Rogers countered with uppercuts to the solar-plexus. Guindon kept boring in, and gave Rogers a bit of trouble in the last round when both boys showed fatigue, but the unanimous decision was in Rogers' favour.

In the light-heavy 165-pound division, Ouellette of Verdun AC entered the ring with a 10-pound advantage over Bob Cox, and showed he is master of a paralyzing right, as he scored the only knockdown and knockout of the evening. Bob went out to meet his vastly superior opponent without backpedalling as some fighters of the AAU did. Ouellette swung and missed, recovered and swung again, and Cox was down. The official time was 0.17 seconds of the first round by a TKO. The last bout of the evening saw Bill Adams of McGill outbox and outslug Rennie of Verdun for the rubber match of the evening. Rennie showed inexperience but plenty of potentiality as Adams boxed him to a standstill in the first 2 rounds. In the third, the boys mixed it up a bit, and the blood flowed all over the place (hand me my rubbers, please). Rennie started with an extremely low crouch and a tight guard which looked good but didn't work. However, Adams didn't have a picnic by any means.

Oh, maiden fair, beware,
And likewise have a care,
Lest passion's kiss betrays
And lose you in a maze.
Men, men, men,
They're quite outside our ken,
Their ways are very devious,
It's lovely-us and leavy-us,
Men, men, men.

Aggies, Dawsonites Down McGill Intermediates in Puck Activities

By GRIFF

The McGill Intermediate Hockey squad absorbed their second loss in as many days as they bowed 4-1 to Dawson Saturday afternoon at St. Johns. For the Dawsonites, it was their second victory against no defeats in intercollegiate play; a week previously, they had beaten the same aggregation 2-1 in Montreal.

Led by their powerful first string line of Hackett, Henry and Bozich, Dawson carried the play in a game which gained momentum as the time wore on. McGill put on their best show in the final period, crowding into the St. John end in a desperate drive, but close checking gave Herbie Keri good protection in the nets.

EARLY COUNTER

Dawson struck early in the first period, Miro Bozich denting the twine on a smart three-way passing play with Phil Henry and Dave Hackett. McGill tied it up at the half-way mark when Malone rammed home Earl Smith's rebound. The goal was disputed, Dawson claiming that Malone was standing in the crease, and as if to show their revenge the homesters took the lead again on the next play. Larry Wulff converting George Swift's pass into the payoff tally. Doug Woodward got two minutes in the penalty box for dumping a McGill rusher.

Play roughened up in the second period, but no penalties were called. Hackett scored the only goal of the stanza, taking Henry's pass from the corner and firing it past Kennedy.

FINAL STANZA

McGill pressed in the final period, but were unable to dent the twine. In fact Dawson added to their lead, Bozich counting from thirty feet out after taking Hackett's pass. Gord Chalmers of McGill and Bern Brophy of Dawson received the only penalties of a period which saw tempers flare.

In addition to the big line, Larry Wulff and John Woodyard shone for Dawson, while Whizzer Smith and Tom Bridle were effective for the Redmen.

The lineups:
Dawson — Goal, Keri; defence, Woodyard, Woodward; forwards, Hackett, Henry and Bozich; subs, McDonald, Brophy, Knubley, Swift.

With two winning games in one pocket, and one loser in the other, the McGill Intermediate Hockey team travelled out to MacDonald on Friday to tie the score, when they lost to the Aggie pucksters, 6-5.

The Redmen really had their sticks moving in the first period as they notched 3 goals for their team. There seemed to be a good chance for a McGill victory—until the MacDonald team let loose and BOOM! 5 goals for the Aggies, none for the McGill men.

SAD STORY

This completed a very disappointing second period for our spectators. Although the Red pucksters were able to get two more goals in the third period, this was not enough. The MacDonald hockeyists were in there again to gain another goal and as a result win the game 6-5.

Malone, Smith and Reed, made an excellent line-up for the McGill players. Malone starred by notching 3 goals. Smith garnered 1, and Franks scored 1 goal on the rebound. For MacDonald, Langill played an excellent game.

TWO WINS, THREE LOSSES.

Adding in the title that was played against Dawson on Saturday afternoon, the score in games now stands at two victories and three losses for the McGill Intermediate Hockey team. The wins were against Bishops and Sir George, while two games were lost to the fast Dawson team, and one to MacDonald.

A football player who was sitting on the bench suddenly hid his face in his arms and burst into tears. The coach turned to him in surprise and asked him: "What's wrong? You're captain of the team. You were elected President of your fraternity and of the Student Council. You were chosen most likely to succeed by the Senior Class. What have you got to cry about?" "Oh, Coach," sobbed the player. "If only I could read and write."

After the first half, which ended with the home team ahead 17-15, the Redmen gradually broke away and were never headed afterwards. George Davidson scored repeatedly on some fancy lay-ups, while Bobby Duford contributed to the victors total with some nice one-handers. Dawson's contribution, Ken Taylor and rookie Myer Bloom were also conspicuous as they both denied the twine on a few neat plays. Ken Hoyle and "Bucket Boy" Bud Fraser were continually in there pulling down rebounds. High scorers for McGill were Davidson and Duford with 13 and 8 points, respectively.

THE RAILWAYMAN
THE NICKEL WORKER
depend on each other

Every day train loads of Nickel roll out from the smelters at Copper Cliff to the refineries at Port Colborne, and from there to the industries and seaports of North America. Heavy freight rolls in from all over Canada. In some years the Canadian Nickel industry has used every day: ten cars of timber, twelve tons of explosives, 2330 feet of pipe, two tons of nails, machinery and supplies in endless variety. In one year the Canadian Nickel industry paid over six million dollars to Canadian railroads for freight. Much of this money was used to pay Canadian railwaymen's wages.

Every year Canadian railroads buy equipment containing Nickel. Tons of Nickel go into locomotives, and freight and passenger car frames, because Nickel Alloys are tough, strong, rust-resistant. The purchase of this equipment means jobs for scores of men engaged in mining, smelting and refining Canadian Nickel.

Canadian railroads could not operate at their present efficiency without Canadian Nickel. The Canadian Nickel industry could not continue to operate without Canadian railroads. Each industry creates employment in the other. No matter how we earn a living, we are all one family, each depending on the others.
